Funtime Lunchtime

Last Friday our school held its annual FunTime Lunchtime event. There were a variety of stalls to buy from which included a haunted house, slime, tuck shop, egg carton bowls, games galore, friendship bracelets and much more. The students could try their hand at sponge throwing and paper aeroplanes.

Thank you to all our staff, parents and students for all your hard work in making this event such a success. We raised $2,897.80 to go towards Year 6 Graduation and end of year activities for the whole school.

Fire Safety Incursion Pre-Primary

Last Friday, the PP students were so excited when the fire trucks and fire fighters visited. The fire fighters talked with us about what to do if there is a fire, showed us some of the life-saving equipment and let us have a quick look through the fire truck before everyone pretended to extinguish a fire with the hose. OH! So much fun!

From the Principal

Yesterday I had the privilege of listening to many Year 5 students state their case for election as student councillor or captain in 2027. One of our focus points in teaching writing, is how to construct a persuasive argument and this was certainly put into practice. Public speaking is an event that can make most adults break out in hives, and it was wonderful to see how well prepared they were as a group to tackle this challenge, transferring classroom lessons into real world application. The flip side of nominating is learning to deal with the disappointment of missing out. This a lesson we all experience multiple times in our life, so let school be a place to learn how to navigate this. The message to all students is congratulations on being brave enough to step forward and be your best.

This year's Head Boy, Iveelt-Od has certainly been busy in tackling educational challenges over the last few months, Iveelt-Od was a member of our school 'Tournament of Minds' team, who qualified for the state final. Recently he has added to this list by achieving 'Merit' status in the Australin wide Maths Olympiad. And if that isn't enough, Iveelt-od will be competing in the Robotics Australian National championships, held in Adelaide next month. Iveelt-Od and his classmate Felix are members of a three-person team from Kalgoorlie, and one of only three teams from Westen Australia primary school children to qualify. Iveelt-Od informs me the team have designed, constructed and programmed a robot. Well done, Iveelt-Od, the future looks bright in your hands.
