

I Will Never Not Ever Eat A Onion .

Firstly they have a strong bitter after taste that stays on your tongue for days . Do you really want to have that happen every time you eat ?

Secondly

They make you cry with their strong juice . The onion sends out a wave of juice that gives your eye sockets the waterworks.

Lastly they have a chewy taste that nobody wants to eat in their life. So they should all be banned from supermarkets shops farms and anywhere in the world.

In conclusion all onions have a strong bitter after taste that stains your tongue for days also they have a chewy taste that no one wants in their life and lastly they make you cry with their strong juice that sends out a strong wave of juice that makes your eyes water. Do you ever want to have any of that happen to you?
